Building a Swing Dance Community

Hop to, Toronto

Hop to, Toronto How does an old dance find a new home? How does a vibrant community suddenly take flight where none before existed?

With the sound of jazz and swing in the air, we are transported not to Harlem in the twenties but to Toronto in the nineties, where lindy hop – the earliest, most sophisticated, and most exuberant form of swing dance – suddenly is everywhere. Hop to, Toronto! Building a Swing Dance Community traces the steps made by a small group of enthusiasts to create an authentic swing scene to call their own.

Featuring: Alana Hock & Solomon Douglas, Frankie Manning, Steven Mitchell, Martin Nantel & Jane Jedlosky, Mandi Gould & Dan Amores, Peter Rezland, Kathleen Le Roux, Simon Threlkeld.

With performances by: Janice Hagan, Jeff Healey, Alex Pangman & the Alley Cats, Terry Wilkins & the Swing Gang.

Screening: Bloor Cinema, June 6th 2005, 7:00 pm
